

Name: _____ Section: _____

Date assigned: Thursday, 11/5

Date due: Tuesday, 11/10

Instructions:

- This problem set is based on the documentary on inequality in the US by Robert Reich, Inequality For All.
- This problem set has 4 questions, for a total of 35 points. The number of points for each question is indicated at the start of the question.
- Please write/type the answers to the questions on separate pieces of paper that are to be turned in with your name written on top, stapled.
- You do not have to agree with the viewpoints expressed in the documentary. You will not be judged for any normative policy claims you make but they must be accompanied by logically-reasoned economic arguments.

---

1: (5 points total)

---

What were your initial reactions to this documentary? List down two.

---

2: (10 points)

---

In one page or less, summarize the documentary. If it helps, focus on 5 key points that you took away from it.

---

3: (10 points)

---

List down two arguments presented in the documentary that you do not agree with or thought were confusing. Why don't you agree? Argue for why you do not agree using economic concepts you know.

---

4: (10 points)

---

List down two arguments presented in the documentary that you do agree with. Why do you agree? Argue for why you agree using economic concepts you know.